DETAILED ACTION

1. Due to incorrect listing of status of claims in PTOL-326, please disregard the previous Office Action. The Office apologizes for the inconvenience.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-9, 12 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suga et al. (4,800,376).

Regarding claim 1, Suga discloses a multiple display system showing a display (4A-4I), and a scaler (3A-3I). The scaler enlarges a predetermined area in the video signal according to an externally transmitted control signal (see col. 5, line 53, to col. 6, line 19).

Regarding claim 2, Suga shows a signal selecting unit (step 602), and a scaling unit (step 603).

Regarding claim 3, Suga includes a buffer (23), a set value-storing unit (22, 24), and a buffer control unit (20) as claimed.

Regarding claim 4, the CPU 20 meets the claimed control unit.

Regarding claim 5, the characters generated by the keyboard 2 (note col. 3, lines 65-66, and col. 5, lines 6-8) are considered OSD signals.

Regarding claim 6, note col. 3, lines 65-6, and col. 5, lines 6-8.

Regarding claim 7, Suga inherently includes A/D converters in interface 15 and interface 25.

Regarding claims 8-9, and 12, in addition of above, each of the decoders in Suga inherently includes a first selecting and second selecting means. Without such selecting means, the enlarged or reduced image cannot be displayed on the multi-screen 4.

Regarding claim 15, see rejection to claim 1.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 10-11, and 13-14 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
